

Artist starts school in Cedar Hills center

Ano Youssefian's program offers classes in painting, drawing and sculpting

CEDAR HILLS — Ano Youssefian has opened a children's art school in Cedar Hills Shopping Center.

Called "Ano's Art: An Academy for Creative Minds," the school is at 10220 S.W. Park Way, Portland. The phone number is 503-292-9278.

All media are offered, from painting to drawing to sculpting and carving. Classes meet mid-day, after school, on Saturdays and in week-long summer workshops.

Youssefian, who holds a bachelor's degree in fine art and elementary education, has taught art at Catlin Gabel School for 13 years and at the Oregon College of Art and Craft for four years.

She has also taught classes at the University of Portland, Arts & Communications Magnet Academy in Beaverton, Riverdale Elementary School in Lake Oswego and the Beaverton Police Activities League.

She is treasurer of the Beaverton Arts Commission board of directors.
